

SOURCING AT NOTEOPTICS.COM

LEADING GLOBAL OPTICAL B2B PLATFORM

A new industry-specific (optical) online B2B site, NoteOptics is a great resource for Optical products, brand release and trade news. With over 100,000 optical products, this platform is home to more than 4,000 high-quality optical suppliers from China and Asia.

NoteOptics.com offers an open and inclusive online trade ecosystem across the entire industry chain for 450,000 visitors including optical sellers, dealers, suppliers, manufacturers, and vendors around the world. The goods and products displayed on this site are incomparable, and it provides international buyers with new information on suppliers and the latest products.

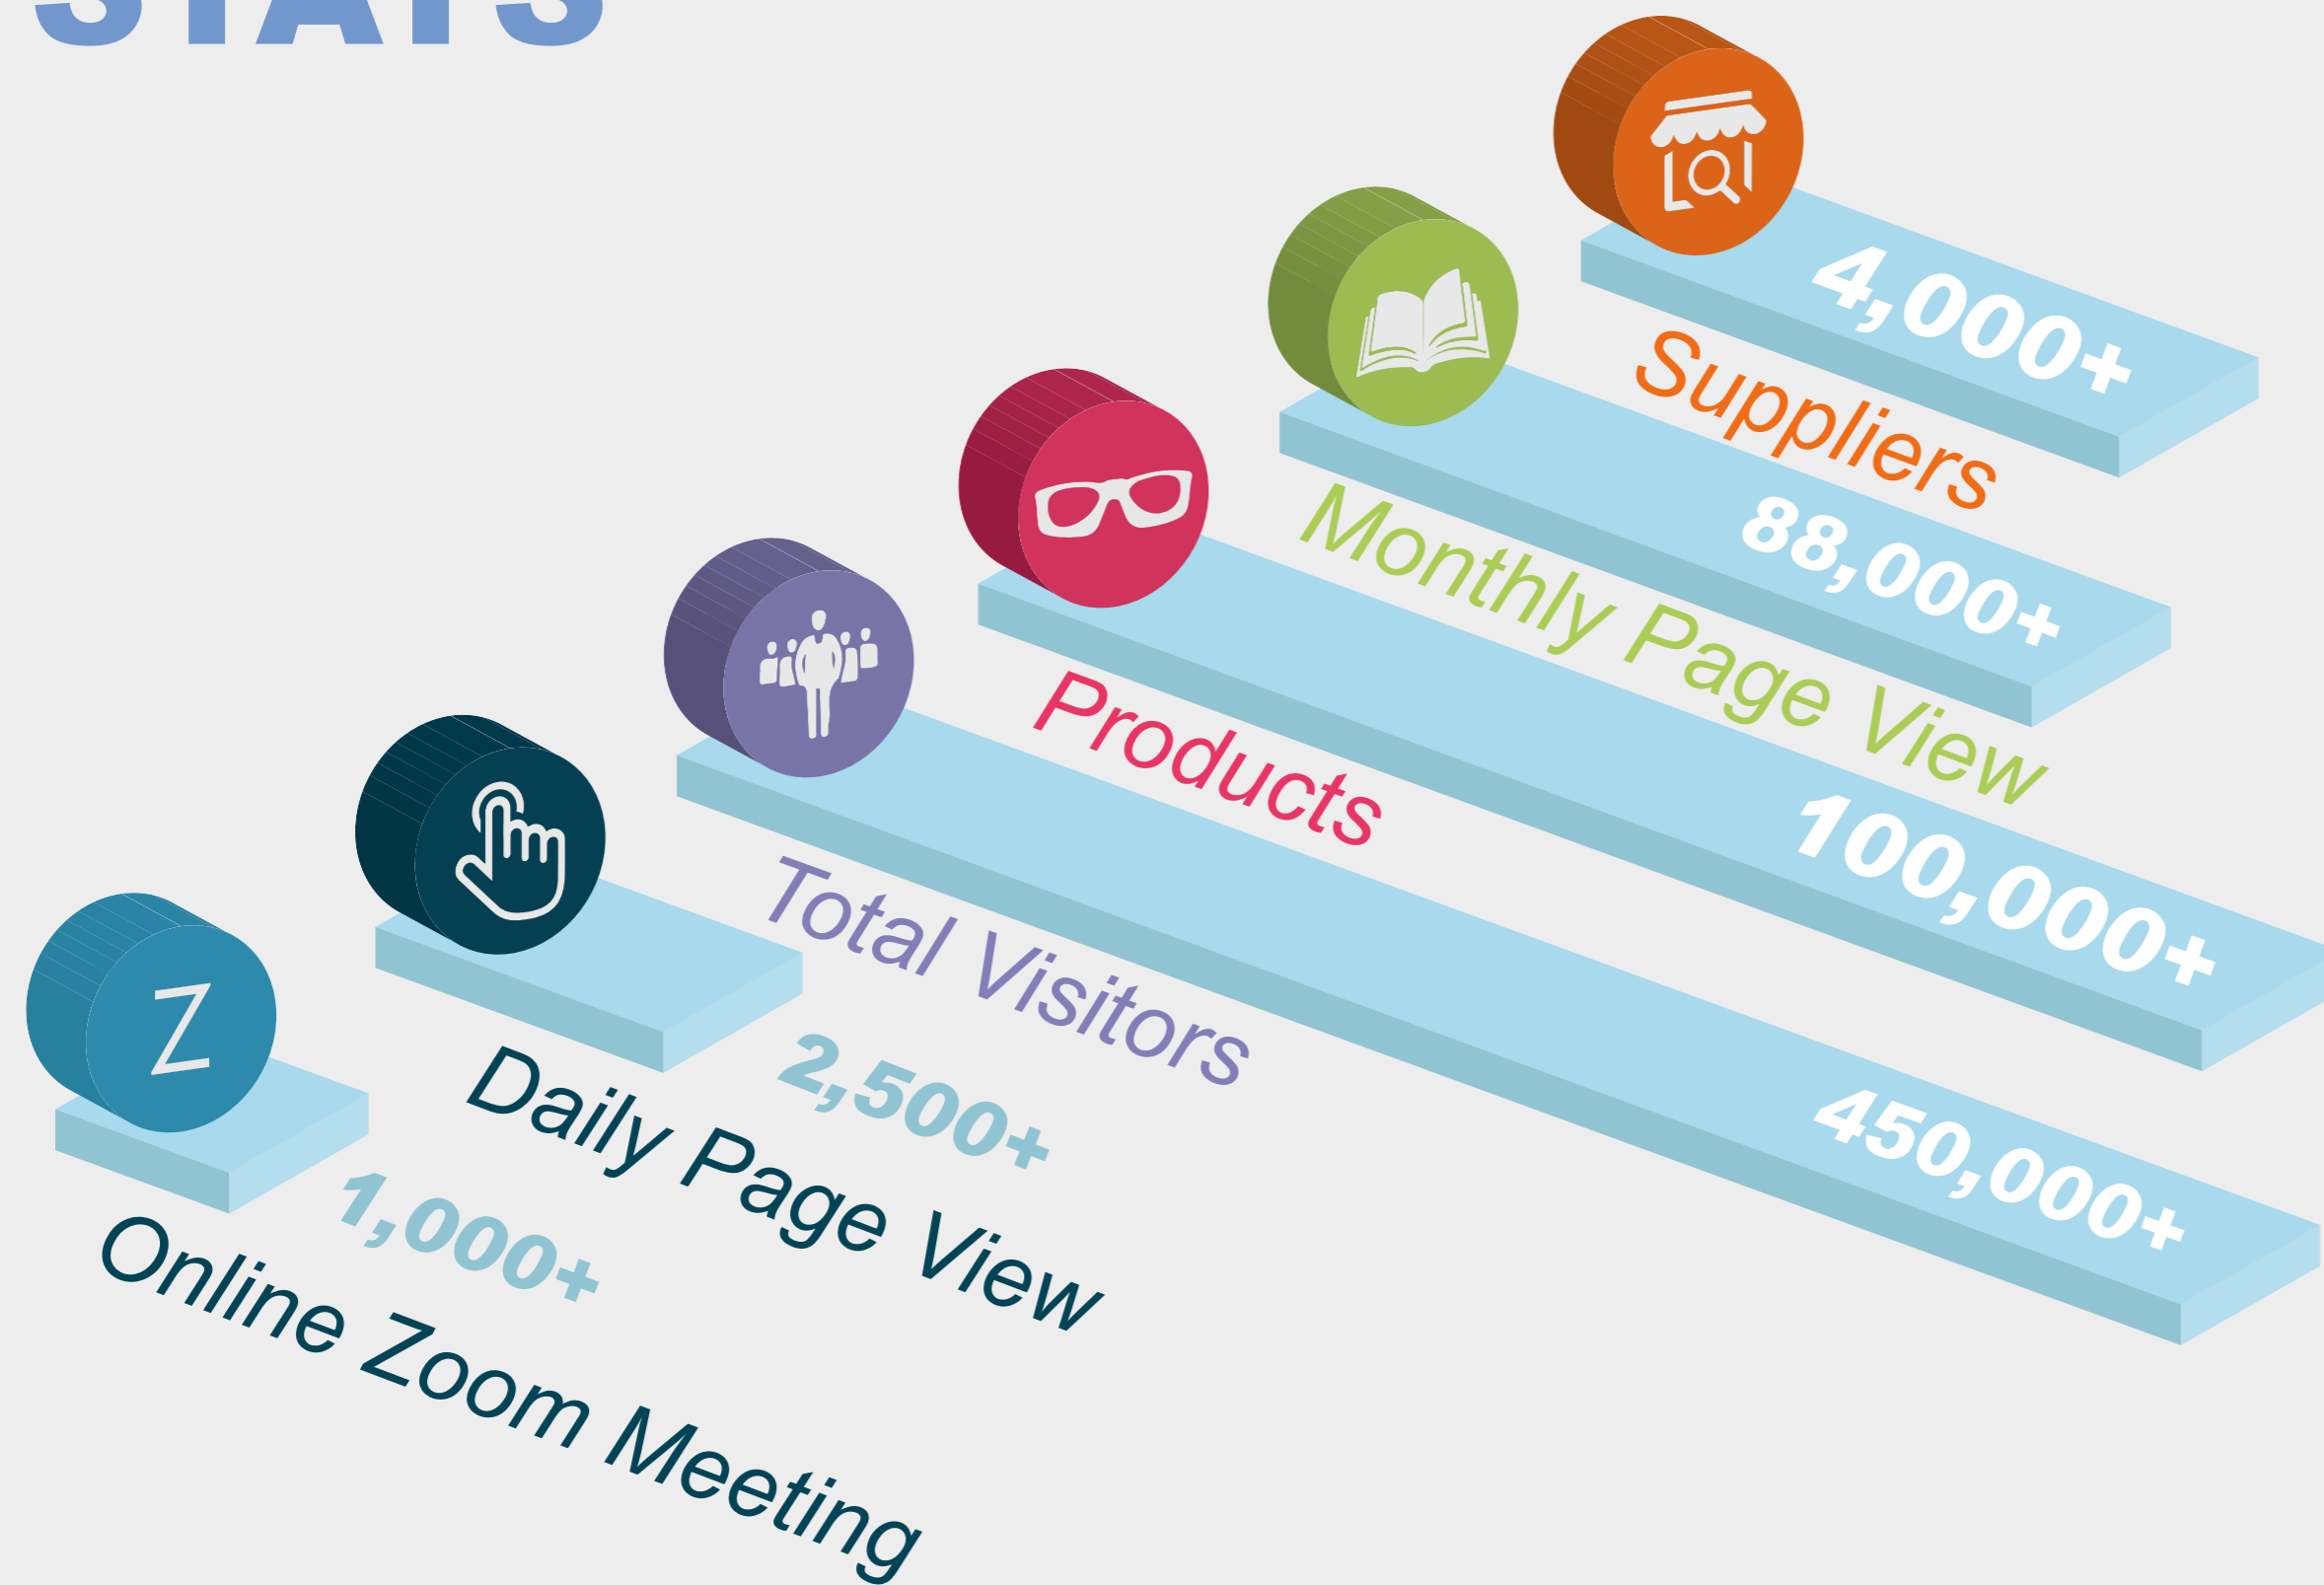

NoteOptics invested in a versatile and robust online platform for the content page that includes company introduction, product details, customer reviews, and business qualifications. It also has engineered its portal to be highly user-friendly allowing buyers and sellers connect quickly.

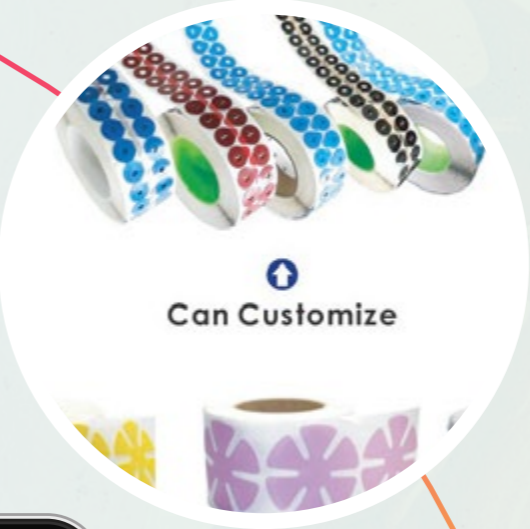

It has another significant advantage as it can offer free online and offline business matchmaking meeting. Through 1-1 video product demonstrations, live chat features, it allows buyers and suppliers to manage an effective online networking experience. It creates a new and improved way for the buyers and sellers to build trust during COVID-19 period.

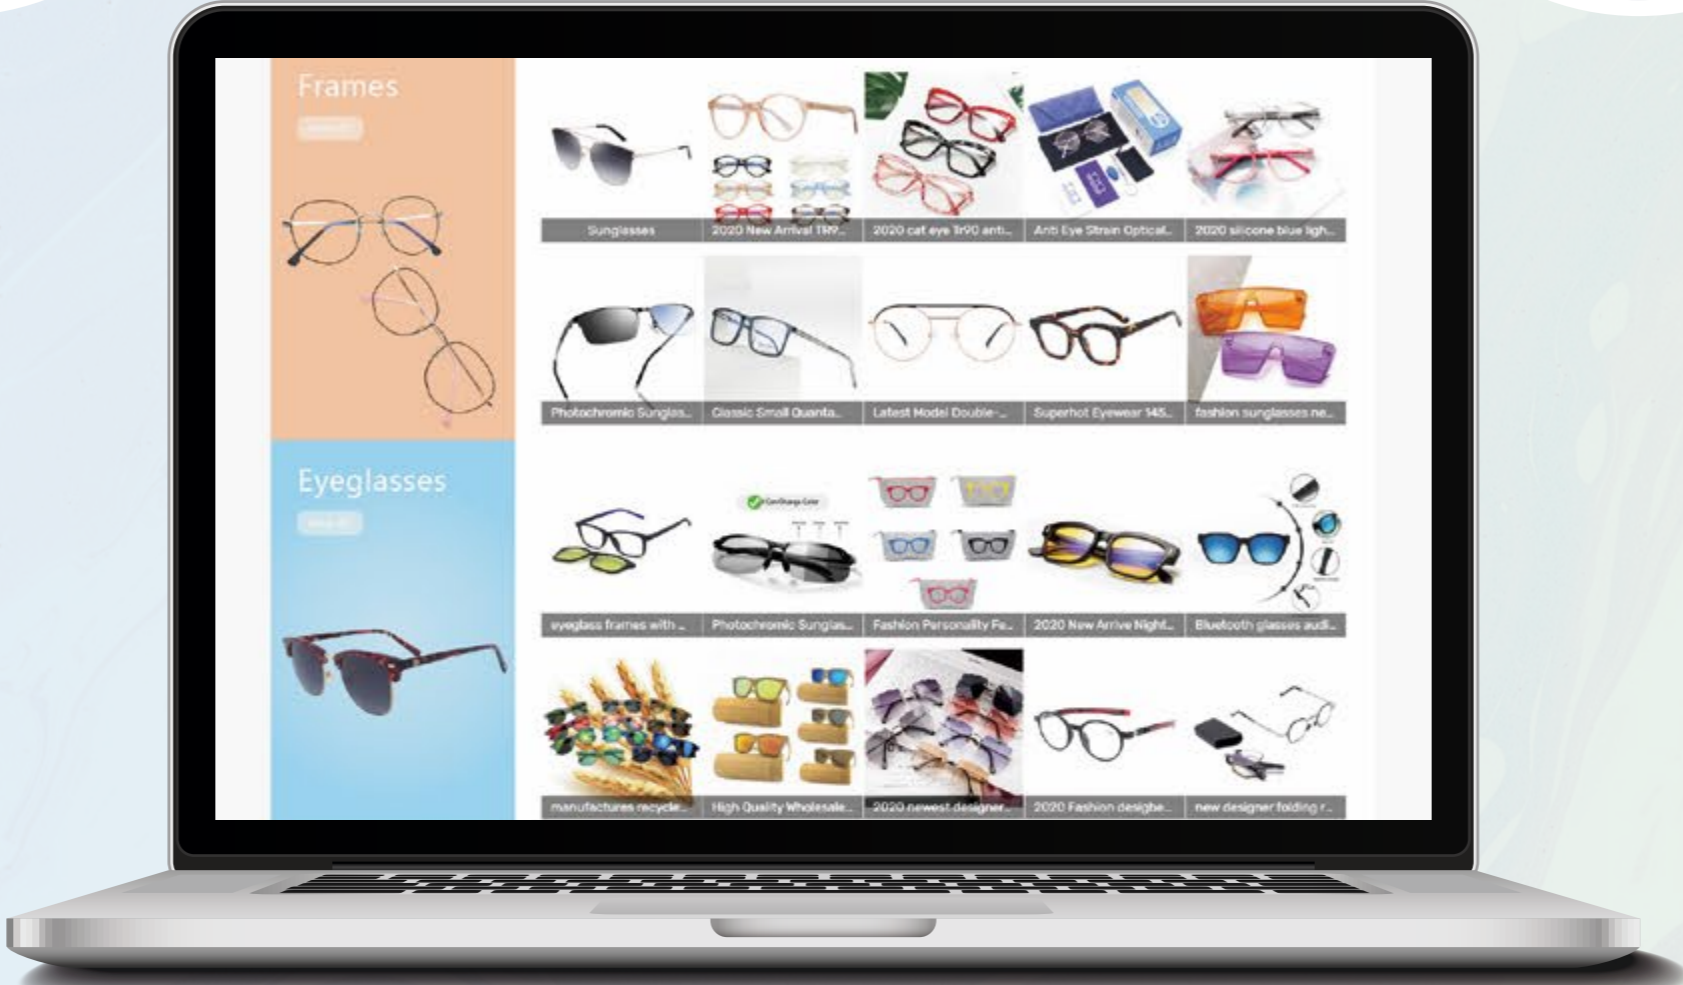

NoteOptics.com entered the market with a passion to address new business challenges with the commitment to provide buyers and sellers satisfaction by all possible means and provide them a platform for fast, reliable and transparent trading.
